Re: Paper submitted for consideration for the 25th annual conference of the AHC.

Dear Alana,

Enclosed please find my submission to the Association for the History of Chiropractic for consideration to be presented at the 25th Annual Conference in June 2005.

This is the identical print copy of the one sent to the AHC Journal for their consideration. I have not included the "figures" referred to as (Figure 1), (Figure 2), etcetera in the article, as I don't believe you want copies of them.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Brian A. Smith, D.C.

Silver Anniversary!

Association for the History of Chiropractic Conference – June 11, 2005

The Association for the History of Chiropractic (AHC) will hold its 25th annual Conference on Chiropractic History June 11, 2005 on the campus of the Southern California University of Health Sciences. This is the Association's silver anniversary, and a very festive meeting and history paper session are planned!

Registration: Early-bird registration is $100 ($5 for students, faculty and staff of LACC or CCCLA) if received by May 31, 2005. Late registration is available at the door but in order to aid in conference planning, please mail in your registration before June 1 using the attached registration form.

Meeting Location: The conference will be hosted by and held at the Southern California University of Health Sciences, 16200 East Amber Valley Drive, Whittier, CA 90609. Directions to the campus can be obtained by calling (800) 221-5222 or visiting the university's website <http://www.scuhs.edu>.

Conference Chair: For questions about the conference, please email the conference chair, Dr. Bart Green (bngreen@nmcscd.med.navy.mil)

Air Transportation: Flights into the area are easy to obtain to the Los Angeles International and Ontario (California) International airports. Try to plan your flights to arrive after 9 AM or after 5 PM to avoid the very busy LA traffic once you are on the ground.

Ground Transportation: The closest airport to Whittier is a good 30 or 40 miles away; it would be unwise to take a cab due to cost. For best results, split the cost of renting a car so that you have some freedom to explore the Los Angeles area. The SCU has generously volunteered to help coordinate some pick-ups and drop-offs at the airport but this service will be limited. It is suggested that out of town attendees attempt to coordinate their inbound and outbound flights so that ground transportation is easier to obtain.

Hotel: The hotel is the Radisson Hotel Whittier. We have a block of 20 rooms at a rate of $89 per night if you mention the AHC when making your reservation. Conference attendees can get the $89 rate for Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

DR. CHARLES A. CALE, N.D., D.C., Ph.C.
PRESIDENT

IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES

Linnie A. Cale
Plaintiff.

vs.

Charles A. Cale
Defendant.

No. D 30356

Dept. 3

INTERLOCUTORY JUDGMENT OF DIVORCE

This cause came on to be heard the 11th day of September 1924, in Department 3, Ray E. Nimmo appearing as attorney for plaintiff, and it appearing that defendant was duly served with process and has not appeared or answered the complaint, that the default of defendant has been entered, and evidence having been introduced, the Court now makes its findings of fact and decision as follows:

That the allegations contained in _____ the complaint are true; and that a judgment dissolving the marriage between plaintiff and defendant ought to be granted.

IT IS ADJUDGED that plaintiff is entitled to a divorce from defendant; that when one year shall have expired after the entry of this interlocutory judgment a final judgment dissolving the marriage between plaintiff and defendant be entered, and at that time the Court shall grant such other and further relief as may be necessary to a complete disposition of this action.

It is further Ordered that the exclusive custody and control of Earl L. Cale, minor child of the parties, be awarded to plaintiff.

Done in open Court this 11th day of September, 1924.

Judge.

NOTICE—CAUTION

This is not a judgment of divorce. The parties are still husband and wife, and will be such until a final judgment of divorce is entered after one year from the entry of this interlocutory judgment. The final judgment will not be entered unless requested by one of the parties.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES,
STATE OF CALIFORNIA

vs.
CHARLES A. CALE,

Plaintiff,
Defendant.

No. D.-30356

Dept. 10

FINAL JUDGMENT OF DIVORCE

In this cause an interlocutory judgment was entered on the 12th day of September, 1924, adjudging that plaintiff was entitled to a divorce from defendant, and more than one year having elapsed, and no appeal having been taken from said judgment, and no motion for a new trial having been made, and the action not having been dismissed:

Now, on motion of plaintiff, it is adjudged that plaintiff be and is granted a final judgment of divorce from defendant and that the bonds of matrimony between plaintiff and defendant be, and the same are, dissolved.

It is further ordered and decreed that wherein said interlocutory decree makes any provision for alimony or the custody and support of children, said provision be and the same is hereby made binding on the parties affected thereby the same as if herein set forth in full, and that wherein said interlocutory decree relates to the property of the parties hereto, said property be and the same is hereby assigned in accordance with the terms thereof to the parties therein declared to be entitled thereto.

Done in open Court this 14th day of September, 1925.

Ernest Craig
Presiding Judge.

Dear Dr. Smith:

I presented your letter regarding the headstone for LACC founder, Dr. Charles Cale, To the Executive Committee of the LACC Alumni Association at its meeting on October 7, 1999.

In your letter of September 9th you stated that you were not aware of any living relatives of Dr. Charles Cale who might object to a headstone for him at Ingelwood Cemetery. The Executive Committee of the Alumni Association has asked to have this issue researched further. It is hoped that either you or Dr. Joseph Keating might be able to discover if there are any living descendents of Dr. Charles Cale before the issue of a new headstone is brought up for a vote.

I look forward to hearing from you regarding this subject in the immediate future.

Most sincerely,

Sheila A. Hanes, D.C.

Dear Dr. Smith:

Congratulations on your becoming a published historian for the chiropractic profession. Dr. Keating has peaked the interest of several doctors in the exciting and colorful history of our profession.

I will be happy to bring your request regarding the gravesite of Dr. Charles Cale to the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles College of Chiropractic Alumni Association. All requests for funding must be approved by the Full Board of the Association, which will not meet again until November, 1999. Once the Board of Directors has made a decision, I will let you know as soon as possible.

I look forward to seeing your new article on Dr. Thomas H. Storey in Chiropractic History.

Best wishes,

Dear Dr. Smith:

On behalf of my deceased grandmother, Astrid Reed Cale (second wife to Charles Cale), and her descendents, this letter will provide you evidence that her descendents have no objections to having a grave marker placed on the grave of Charles Cale in the Inglewood Cemetery, F-Plot, grave 1921-x.

Sincerely,

Schedule subject to change

The year the AHC was formed:

Orval L. Hidde, D.C., J.D., retired from the CCE after 20 years of service and went into practice of law and chiropractic in Watertown, Wisconsin.

Roger J. R. Hynes was in McDonald Drive Grade School in St. John's, Newfoundland.

Joseph C. Keating, Jr., was working on his doctorate in clinical psychology and clinical research methods at the State University of New York at Albany.

Willy Siegel Leventhal was the Assistant Field Director in Southern California for Carter's re-election campaign, teaching college part-time, beginning a six year lawsuit after reporting corruption in the Federal government CETA program administered by the City Council in LA, and playing shortstop on the semi-pro Venice Cardinals baseball team.

Brian A. Smith moved from New Jersey to San Diego to start his pre-requisites for chiropractic college.

Reed B. Phillips, D.C., M.S. was the Director of Research for the Foundation for Chiropractic Education.

N. Ray Tuck, Jr., was attending Crizter Elementary School in Pulaski, Virginia.

Presenters Glenda Wiese, M.A.L.S. and Alana Callender, M.S.L.S. were working at Bettendorf Public Library and the U.S. Department of Justice Criminal Justice library, respectively.

"The Seeding of Chiropractic in California"

Dr. Charles Cale and his first wife, Dr. Linnie Cale, committed themselves to disseminate the knowledge of a little known, yet ancient, healing art – chiropractic. Dr. Charles sought to formalize the training of chiropractic physicians.

In 1911, when Dr. Charles received a charter for Los Angeles College of Chiropractic, modern chiropractic was but 16 years old. The first classes, which included anatomy, chiropractic principles and technique, were taught in their home.

Since then, LACC has grown, evolved, and matured into SCU, the "most scientifically advanced school for Chiropractic, Acupuncture, and Oriental Medicine."

Chiropractic Diploma Mill Here Charged

'College' Head Arrested After
State Board Inspector
Swears Out Warrant

DIPLOMA mill charges brought the arrest last night of Dr. Charles A. Cale, president of the Chiropractic College at 1416 West Seventh street.

DR. C. A. CALE
Under Arrest

The warrant was issued to Bert A. Humason, chief inspector for the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners who, after an intensive investigation, charged that inexperienced applicants who had never had instruction in chiropractic have purchased diplomas enabling them to practice as certified chiropractors.

In the complaint, Doctor Cale is charged with selling a diploma to a woman investigator—a woman who had never attended classes at the college—for $200.

A down payment of $14 was made by the woman.

Today, however, a sweeping investigation of Doctor Cale's methods of operating his college, is to be launched by the district attorney's office.

A felony complaint charging perjury will be requested by Inspector Humason—the perjury accusation to be based upon the alleged falsification of diplomas. Some of these have been passed upon by the state board and have created inexperienced of a sensational nature.

One affidavit in possession of the investigation and which was sworn to by a former business manager of the college charges:

"A party by the name of Mr. King, who has a State chiropractic license and a diploma from the Cale Chiropractic College, never attended said college one day day to my exact knowledge.

Four Months in School

"C. F. Beach received a diploma after attending the Cale College four months.

"It is a known fact to me, and to the students in general that persons could receive a diploma without attending the necessary 2400 hours, as required by California State law. Also that Doctor Cale had several school ships that he sold to the highest bidder."

Still another affidavit, made by a former instructor of the institution, sets forth that—

"False and fraudulent entries were made in the college records, with the express purpose of obtaining hour credits that they did not merit, in order to get a diploma from the said chiropractic school."

In furtherance of these charges from Dr. Cale's former associates, Inspector Humason held a long conference with Deputy Percy Hammond of the District Attorney's office yesterday laying many documents and other evidence before him. Grand jury action will be requested by the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

Other members of the faculty and former students who probably will be summoned to the District Attorney's office for questioning today are Dr. J. P. Dugger, Dr. A. A. Cale, his wife, and Dr. W. J. Hallquist.

MAN IS DYING AFTER KILLING 2 WOMEN

Tony Speros, 147 North Hicks street, Belvedere, lay near death today at the General hospital prison ward, the aftermath of a New Year's eve tragedy in which, according to his admission to officers, he killed his divorced wife, Imogene, and his mother-in-law, Dr. Astrid Cale, then shot himself. Embittered by the divorce by his wife two months ago, Speros last night went to the home of Drs. Carl and Astrid Cale, her parents, at 3427 Michigan avenue, Belvedere. He said he wanted to see his two children, a boy two years old and a girl four months old.

His mother-in-law, according to the semi-delirious story he told Deputy Sheriffs Roy O. Ernst and Fred Godard, met him in the kitchen as he entered her home by the back door. She was an associate chiropractor with her husband with offices at 329 South Hill street, Los Angeles.

Dr. Astrid Cale upbraided Speros for invading her home, where her daughter has lived since the divorce.

"I didn't like her and when she said I didn't have nerve enough to shoot her, I fired," Speros, told the deputies.

Meanwhile, Dr. Carl A. Cale, unable to get an answer as he telephoned his home, was racing desperately by automobile to the tragedy scene.

Before the father entered, Mrs.

DR. ASTRID CALE

Shot, Killed by Son-in-Law

Imogene Speros rushed into the kitchen following the report of the gun. Her ex-husband shot her, also, through the head.

"Well, I thought she was running around with another man, so I shot her, too," he said, according to the deputy sheriffs.

Then, with the two bodies sprawled on the floor before him, Speros turned the gun on himself, inflicting a serious wound.

Dear Dr. Hanes,

I brought to your attention the lack of a headstone for LACC founder Charles Cale, D.C. in 1999. The Executive Committee asked for more research concerning any living descendants of Dr. Cale.

Since that time, I have exhausted all sources that I know in attempting to ascertain if any of Charles and Linnie's three children had children themselves. Guy and Earl Cale both lived in Glendale and died there as well. The Glendale newspapers did not publish an obituary for either of them which is highly unlikely if there were children. Ruth Cale, D.C. practiced with her mother for years and I have found no indication that she ever married or had children. I also spoke with Dr. J.G. Anderson who told me that he knew Linnie Cale, D.C. and had heard of the children but he had never heard anything regarding grandchildren.

Dr. Cale's second wife Astrid (Reed) Cale does have living descendants, though all are from a previous marriage of hers. I have been in contact with them and a grandson, Robert Reed, assures me that the descendants of Astrid (Reed) Cale have no objection to the purchase and placement of a headstone on the unmarked grave of Charles Cale, D.C. I have included a copy of Mr. Reed's letter.

I hope this will answer any question that the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association may have. I do understand their position as I am familiar with a similar endeavor undertaken, only to have the family object at the end. As I understand it, that headstone now sits on the campus of Palmer College of Chiropractic in Davenport. Please let me know of their decision.

If the Executive Committee approves, I would appreciate it if you could bring this matter up before the Full Board of the Association at the next meeting. The cost of obtaining a headstone would most likely be in the $1,500.00 to $2,000.00 range, depending on the style selected. All the headstones at Inglewood Cemetery are tablets that are placed at ground level. There are many designs, and colors, to choose from. I have also included a copy to show you the type of stones I am referring to.

If approved, I will have the Inglewood Cemetery forward to me a current price list and style sheet. I look forward to your reply.

Sincerely,

Brian A. Smith, D.C.

Follow-Up on Dr. Charles Cale's Grave and Brian Smith's Article

In 1911, Dr. Charles Cale founded Los Angeles College of Chiropractic. A few years later, he left LACC for other educational ventures, including establishing Cale College of Chiropractic in 1925 and Cale College of Naturopathy in 1927. He died in 1938 without a great deal of fanfare and, for years, was only a name affiliated with an institution that evolved into Southern California University of Health Sciences of Whittier, California in 2000.

While researching the genealogy of those who had made a difference in the role of chiropractic history throughout the years, LACC alumnus Dr. Brian Smith (Class of 1987) discovered the unmarked grave of Dr. Cale at Inglewood Park Cemetery, close to Southern California landmarks of Hollywood Park race track and the Forum. It bothered him that someone so prominent in the story of chiropractic, especially in its defense during political harassment in the early 1900s, was obviously overlooked in his passing.

He had found Cale to hold a number of distinctions during his lifetime. He was the only chiropractic college president of his era to secure a teaching credential and was an educator by profession. He held three separate health care degrees in his lifetime – chiropractic, osteopathic and naturopathic. Cale served at the forefront of securing licensure and acceptance of chiropractic in the state of California.

Six years ago, Smith approached Southern California University of Health Sciences and its alumni association inquiring if there was interest in the institution supporting the placement of a marker for Cale's final resting place. After researching if there were any objections from descendants of the Cale family, the SCU Alumni Association voted unanimously to pay for a headstone. Recently, Smith, Alumni Association President Dr. Fred Lerner, SCU President Reed B. Phillips, SCU Vice President/Administration Patricia Graves and SCU Director of Alumni and Development Dr. Sheila Hanes visited the grave to unveil the marker and recognize the achievements of Dr. Charles Cale.

Included in their remarks: Phillips acknowledged that the legacy of Dr. Cale remains at SCU today, with staff and alumni working together to continue the promotion and legitimacy of chiropractic; Lerner stated how grateful he was to be a part of the group recognizing Cale for his vision and efforts on behalf of the science; Hanes noted that Cale would be proud of the college's evolution over the last nine decades and its place as a leader in chiropractic education; and Smith shared some of his research on the founder whose headstone is inscribed with the words, "Dr. Charles Cale, 1870-1938, Educator-Healer-Advocate, Founder-Los Angeles College of Chiropractic."

Those in attendance then placed roses around the marker in tribute of Cale, and Smith presented Phillips with a copy of a presentation he prepared for the 25th anniversary of the Association for Chiropractic History Conference held earlier this year at SCU on the life and work of Dr. Cale. For his efforts, Smith received an award for the session's best paper.

Southern California University of Health Sciences, through its two colleges (LACC and the College of Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine), has graduated over 7,000 individuals since 1911 and has alumni practicing their skills around the world.

The Association for the History of Chiropractic Celebrates 25 Years: 1980 to 2005

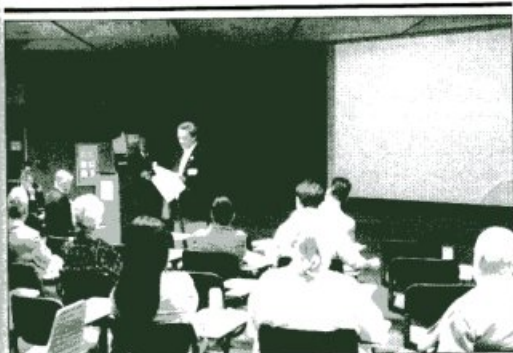

Figure 1: Dr. John C. Willis reminds the conference attendees about the importance of remembering where we have been and the importance of the future of the AHC.

The Association for the History of Chiropractic (AHC) celebrated its 25th Anniversary this year at the annual Conference on Chiropractic History. The conference, held at the Los Angeles College of Chiropractic campus, Whittier, California, began early on 11 June 2005 with opening remarks from the AHC President Art Lensgraf, D.C. and the President of the hosting campus Reed Phillips, D.C., Ph.D., President of the Southern California University of Health Sciences.

Dr. John Willis, shared with the audience some insights about the AHC and its membership (Figure 1). The attendees were reminded that in the midst of humble beginnings, the AHC was founded at Spears Hospital, Denver, Colorado in 1980 and that the first annual Conference on Chiropractic History was held at the Smithsonian Institute in 1981. Since that time, the AHC has grown in membership and established itself as the organization committed to preserving and disseminating information on the history of the chiropractic profession.

The 2005 conference provided a wonderful opportunity to reflect not only on the content of the conference paper presentations, but the reason for AHC's existence. The AHC has now come of age through establishing its own heritage and self-reflection, which are hallmarks of a sound and lasting organization.

The presentation schedule was filled with interesting chiropractic historical papers ranging from topics of local interest to those that are profession-wide (Figure 2). There was stiff competition this year for the best paper award. After all votes were in and tallied, the award committee decided that Dr. Brian Smith would receive the award for best paper. His presentation provided insights into the history of Charles Cale, the founder of the hosting campus (Figure 3).

The 25th anniversary celebration included a lavish lunch consisting of a traditional Mexican buffet and a ceremonial cutting of the anniversary cake by Drs. Lensgraf and Phillips (Figure 4). After the luncheon had ended, a hearty toast of champagne and chocolate was made to remember the past and to celebrate the bright future of the AHC (Figure 5).

After lunch, the attendees were afforded a tour of the hosting campus. At the end of the tour, the AHC Board assembled at the front of the SCU campus for the traditional annual portrait (Figure 6).

Each year the Lee-Homewood Chiropractic Heritage Award is given to a living person who has made outstanding contributions to the chiropractic profession; the honoree's name is added to the list on the AHC website www.historyofchiropractic.org. This year the Lee-Homewood Award was presented to Dr. A. Joe Willis for his outstanding contributions to the profession. Upon receipt of the award, Dr. Willis humbly expressed his appreciation and urged others to follow their hearts and put other people before themselves while pursuing their careers and practicing the art of chiropractic (Figure 7).

Towards the end of the conference, Ms. Alana Callender was recognized with a crystal trophy for her many years of service to the AHC as the Executive Director (Figure 8). Glenda Wiese will be taking on the role as the new Executive Director. Those interested in membership or becoming more involved with the AHC may contact Ms. Wiese at wiese_g@palmer.edu.

At the closure of the conference, the location of the 2006 conference was announced. The 2006 annual conference will be held at the National University of Health Sciences Lombard, Illinois, in conjunction with National's 100-year anniversary. For more information about the 2006 conference visit www.NUHS.edu, the AHC website, or contact Glenda Wiese.

At each conference on chiropractic history, old friends are reunited and new friends are made during the celebration of the rich and vibrant history of the chiropractic profession. We look forward to the future as we remember our past in the many years ahead with the AHC.

ABOUT DR. KEATINGTALK BACKOTHER ARTICLES BY DR. KEATING

On Historical Research, Writing and Preservation

The summer 2005 issue of Chiropractic History, the journal published by the Association for the History of Chiropractic (AHC), included a masterpiece of historical investigation. Hats off to Brian A. Smith, DC, for his in-depth report, "Charles Augustus Cale, N.D., D.C., Ph.C., M.C., 1870-1938: the Educator from Indiana."¹ This is sleuthing and storytelling at its most intense, and offers the profession a revealing glimpse of the founder of one of its major institutions, the Los Angeles College of Chiropractic (LACC; now Southern California University of Health Sciences), and some of the many schools that merged with this college over the years. Smith's paper is remarkable for the breadth of archival sources tapped and resources assembled in order to map out the life and career of this largely forgotten but nonetheless significant chiropractic pioneer. Dr. Smith's work demonstrates dogged pursuit of facts and the perspicacity to put them together into a meaningful whole. Well done! At its recent Conference on Chiropractic History, the AHC recognized Brian's achievement with the award for best history paper.

There are, however, many other forms of research and contributions to the historical database. The same issue of Chiropractic History in which Dr. Smith's paper appeared included a first-person retrospective by Orval L. Hidde, DC, JD, well-known to the profession as one of two individuals (along with George Haynes, DC, MS) most responsible for securing the Council on Chiropractic Education's recognition by the U.S. Office of Education in 1974.² Dr. Hidde relates events connected with his 20 years of service with the CCE (1961-1980); the value of his report³ rests not only in the unique perspective he offers, but also upon the meticulous records he maintained over the years. No one else could have provided this sort of view of one of the major turning points in the history of the profession.

Dr. Orval Hidde, 2000.

This particular issue of Chiropractic History also offered a farewell⁴ to one of the profession's most valuable supporters, Professor Walter Wardwell, PhD. A long-serving member of the AHC's board of directors and the 1993 recipient of the Association's Lee-Homewood Chiropractic Heritage Award, Walt had been an observer of the chiropractic profession at least since his days in graduate school. His 1951 doctoral dissertation at Harvard University was reportedly the first sociological treatise on the chiropractic profession, and he continued to contribute his understanding of the history of struggles of chiropractors during the next 50 years.

Perhaps his single most important contribution to an understanding of the chiropractic saga was his 1992 manuscript, Chiropractic: History & Evolution of a New Profession.⁵ In this work, Dr. Wardwell struck a delightful balance between depth and breadth of coverage; this volume is the best textbook (and still the only one of its type) for teaching the history of the profession.

It is surely the case that we today stand on (and hopefully build upon) the shoulders of the greats who went before us. Yet we need not be intimidated by the caliber of their work. We should instead be inspired by it to contribute, each in our own way, to expand our knowledge and understanding. To this end, it may be helpful to recognize the variety of forms of historical input.

Writing the history of chiropractic (or of any other subject, for that matter) may take either or both of two forms: storytelling and analysis. Although many contributions combine both elements, one does encounter the historical writer who proceeds on the assumption that the facts of some event are well-known by the audience, and with appropriate references to established source works, offers little or no new data. The value of such work lies in integration and interpretation. Like the hypothesis-testing of the scientific method, the analytic historical treatise marshals evidence for and against a particular way of looking at what has transpired. The result may be an intellectual gem that stimulates the imagination and opens new avenues of investigation, or a folly that misdirects, obfuscates or prompts strenuous rebuttal by readers. Both can be valuable, albeit in different ways.

Dr. Joseph Strauss' fascinating history of chiropractic⁶ provides a view of the chiropractic century from the "super-straight" perspective.

Much of historical research and writing, however, involves efforts to capture and relate facts as best as they can be discerned. Storytelling, an art at least as old as the campfires of our pre-historic ancestors (i.e., those whose stories did not survive!), is an art common to all people. Storytelling is part of the fabric of our language, our culture and our everyday experience. Any individual may be a good or poor storyteller, and may engage the listener or cure insomnia, but invariably, we all are capable of and practitioners of this art. In the realm of scholarly contribution, the raconteur is obliged to exercise a degree of transparency with the audience by referencing the facts offered, attesting to them as a first-person observer, or pointing up the uncertainties in the information provided. Unfortunately, in the realm of chiropractic (as in other corners of the human experience), we inevitably encounter elements of deceit, omission, exaggeration, pettifoggery, and reliance upon myths-become-truths.

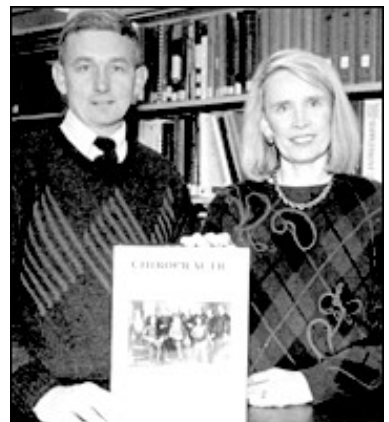

Storytelling involves relating events. As an historian working in a contentious field of human activity (chiropractic), it has been my practice to attempt to document (offer references in support of) many of the details of the stories I tell. This in no way ensures their accuracy, but does allow the reader to check and verify or refute the "facts." Well-documented stories (Smith's paper about Charles Cale is exemplary) provide some degree of confidence in the reported facts, and a jumping-off point for further investigation and analysis.

Dr. Smith's most recent work is an excellent example of storytelling based upon in-depth investigation. There are other strategies, however. For example, for the past 16 years, I have been building digital databases concerning various individuals, events and institutions within the chiropractic saga (some of this information is available at www.chiropractic.org). The process of collecting and organizing this information, conducted without intent to investigate any particular topic, generates large volumes of easily (digitally) retrievable details. On many occasions, the volume of information on a particular subject has suggested a paper; this tactic is quite the opposite of Smith's determined effort to ferret out the facts of Charles Cale's contribution to chiropractic. Both approaches are legitimate; both further the purpose.

The construction of digital history databases is akin to the work of the librarians and archivists at our chiropractic colleges. (It should be noted that the clear and outstanding leader in historical preservation in chiropractic is the work of the archives at the David D. Palmer Health Sciences Library in Davenport.) The purpose is preservation in general, without consideration of any specific historiographic contribution. This is work not only for archival specialists, but also for the rank and file of the profession. Hiding in the attics, basements and garages of chiropractors throughout the land are treasures that would cause historians to salivate - if anyone knew they were still available.

All too often, the historical investigator hears of the "old junk" that was tossed for want of space, for need of more file cabinets, or simply because the owner assumed that no one would be interested. Relevant materials include old books, professional journals and magazines, brochures and pamphlets, correspondence, photographs, diplomas, legal documents, newspaper clippings and artifacts (e.g., tables, instruments).

Dennis Peterson, MLS, director, and Glenda Wiese, PhD, archivist, of the David D. Palmer Health Sciences Library, circa 1995.

And it's not just the stuff that's already 50 years old; relevant historical material also includes the files you've accumulated throughout your professional career - even if you're a recent graduate! There's gold in them thar file cabinets - treat them with respect! Don't toss those records when you could be donating them to your alma mater.

The chiropractic saga is rich in wisdom and folly, success and failure, whimsy and noble purpose, color and passion, and struggle and perseverance. This story holds insights not only for members of the profession, but also for all people. Telling this tale is the prerogative of anyone who recognizes its importance and is willing to spend a little time to make a contribution that will last for all future generations.

AHC Holds Conference on the Campus of SCU

The Association of Chiropractic History held its 25th anniversary conference on the campus of SCU recently and Director of Alumni and Development Dr. Sheila Hanes served as a correspondent for the Campus Connection in order to provide us with an overview of the program.

Art Lensgraf and President Phillips cut the anniversary cake.

According to Hanes, approximately 50 conference participants were welcomed to SCU by President Reed B. Phillips. In his remarks, Phillips stated, "If we don't know and remember the history of our profession, the future of our profession may be very different." He also noted that one of his goals is to build a new Learning Resource Center at SCU that will contain a museum of chiropractic and LACC history.

Dr. Brian Smith receives his award for "best paper" from Art Lensgraf.

Art Lensgraf, President of AHC, honored the founding members of the organization, including Dr. James Russell, former regent at Texas Chiropractic College, who was in attendance.

Among the papers presented at the conference were a presentation honoring former LACC graduate and professor Dr. John G. Anderson; a biography of LACC co-founder Dr. Charles Cale and a presentation "The England Case" by President Phillips. Awards were also given out, including the Lee-Homewood Heritage Award to Dr. A. Joe Willis for his entrepreneurial spirit and multi-faceted approach to the business of chiropractic. Best paper of the conference went to Dr. Brian Smith for his program on Dr. Cale.

Conference chairman for the event was LACC alumni Dr. Bart Green who made sure the day remained festive with a Mexican lunch, followed by the cutting of a 25th anniversary cake. Members of the SCU Board of Regents, who were having a meeting on campus that day, joined participants for the celebration.

Dr. Charles Cale Honored by SCU

Ever hear of the name...Dr. Charles Cale? Don't feel bad – a lot of people who have attended SCU/LACC have no clue as to who he was and his place in the college's history. Cale founded Los Angeles College of Chiropractic back in 1911, but he didn't stick around long – as his wife, Dr. Linnie Cale took over the day-to-day operations of the facility just years after it was created.

However, his affiliation with LACC was marked as both an educator and an advocate during a difficult time for the chiropractic profession. He stood and spoke on chiropractic's behalf when others were too afraid. In the early 1900's, Cale was universally recognized as a champion of the science.

Charles went on to found two other institutions – ~~Cale College of Chiropractic~~ In 1925 and Cale College of Naturopathy two years later. Then, in 1938, he passed away. For the longest time, no one knew where the father of LACC was buried so appropriate honors after his death were few and far between.

In 1999, all of that changed when an alum of LACC, Dr. Brian Smith (Class of 1987), combined a love of genealogy and chiropractic and started to look up histories of those who had made a true difference in the profession. In his exhaustive research, Smith found the resting place of Dr. Charles Cale – an unmarked grave at Inglewood Park Cemetery. It bothered him that someone so prominent in the history of chiropractic and SCU/LACC, was now so overlooked.

Smith had found out the following about LACC's founder:

- He was the only chiropractic college president of his ere to secure a teaching credential and who was an educator by profession
- He held three separate health care degrees – chiropractic, osteopathic and naturopathic
- He served at the forefront of securing licensure and acceptance of chiropractic in the State of California

The SCU/LACC Alumni Association was then approached to see if there was interest in placing a headstone at Cale's Inglewood plot. The response was immediate and positive, however, in order to have a marker prepared and placed, the family needed to grant its permission. Smith was involved in another research project – to find descendants of the Cale family and receive their approval for the project.

It all came together this year – and culminated with a simple ceremony at the cemetery attended by Smith, President Reed B. Phillips, Vice President Patricia Graves, Alumni Association President Dr. Fred Lerner and Director of Alumni and Development Dr. Sheila Hanes. Included in the remarks were:

- Phillips acknowledged that the legacy of Dr. Cale remains alive at SCU today, with staff and alumni working together to continue the promotion and legitimacy of chiropractic

- Lerner stated how grateful he was to be a part of the group recognizing Cale for his vision and efforts on behalf of the science, especially at a time when there was so much opposition
- Hanes noted that Cale would be proud of the college's evolution over the last nine decades and its place as a leader in chiropractic education, and
- Smith shared some of his research on the founder whose headstone reads, "Dr. Charles Cale, 1870-

1938, Educator-Healer-Advocate. Founder-Los Angeles College of Chiropractic".

Covered by an Alumni Association banner during the ceremony, the headstone was then unveiled and those in attendance placed roses around it. Smith also presented Phillips with a copy of his presentation prepared for the 25th anniversary of the Association for Chiropractic History conference held earlier this year at SCU. The topic of the paper was the life and work of Dr. Cale – and it earned him an award as the session's best.

So, next time when you hear the name of Dr. Charles Cale, you'll be enlightened – and proud to be a part of the institution he created – one so closely affiliated with the success of the profession.

Alum Wins Top Honor For ACH Presentation

An alumnus of SCU/Los Angeles College of Chiropractic won the "Best Paper" award at the recent 25th Anniversary Conference of the Association for Chiropractic History. Dr. Brian A. Smith took the top honor for his presentation on "Charles A. Cale, DC, 1870-1938: The Educator from Indiana".

Smith has been researching the life and times of Dr. Cale for over five years. If the name sounds just a little familiar - Cale and his wife, Linnie, founded Los Angeles College of Chiropractic back in 1911. The Cales were both educators from Indiana who received chiropractic care in California - and the results sent them on a quest to become doctors of chiropractic themselves and subsequently create the educational foundation for what is one of today's leading institutions in the world.

An April 1987 graduate of LACC, Smith now practices in West Hollywood. For his work on the Cale paper, he was presented with a $500 check from Dr. Arthur Lensgraf, President of the Association for Chiropractic History.

NEWS RELEASE

Founder of Los Angeles College of Chiropractic Honored with Headstone

For Immediate Release

In 1911, Dr. Charles Cale founded Los Angeles College of Chiropractic. A few years later, he left LACC for other educational ventures, including establishing Cale College of Chiropractic in 1925 and Cale College of Naturopathy in 1927. He died in 1938 without a great deal of fanfare and, for years, was only a name affiliated with an institution that evolved into Southern California University of Health Sciences of Whittier (CA) in 2000.

While researching the genealogy of those who had made a difference in the role of chiropractic history throughout the years, LACC alum Dr. Brian Smith (Class of 1987) discovered the unmarked grave of Dr. Cale at Inglewood Park Cemetery, close to Southern California landmarks of Hollywood Park race track and the Forum. It bothered him that someone so prominent in the story of chiropractic, especially in its defense during political harassment in the early 1900's, was obviously overlooked in his passing.

He had found Cale to hold a number of distinctions during his lifetime. He was the only chiropractic college president of his era to secure a teaching credential and was an educator by profession. He held three separate health care degrees in his lifetime – chiropractic, osteopathic and naturopathic. Cale served at the forefront of securing licensure and acceptance of chiropractic in the State of California.

Six years ago, Smith approached SCU and its Alumni Association inquiring if there was interest in the institution supporting the placement of a marker for Cale's final resting place. After researching if there were any objections from descendants of the Cale family, the Alumni Association voted unanimously to pay for a headstone. Recently, Smith, Alumni Association President Dr. Fred Lerner, SCU President Reed B. Phillips, SCU Vice President/Administration Patricia Graves and SCU Director of Alumni and Development Dr. Sheila Hanes visited the grave to unveil the marker and recognize the achievements of Dr. Charles Cale.

LACC Founder Honored

Dr. Charles Hale founded Los Angeles College of Chiropractic (LACC) in 1911. He left LACC a few years later and went on to establish Cale College of Chiropractic in 1925, and Cale College of Naturopathy in 1927. When he passed away in 1938, there was little fanfare.

An LACC alumnus, Dr. Brian Smith (class of '87) began researching the genealogy of various noted figures in chiropractic history and research activities. He learned that Dr. Cale had held a number of distinctions over the years: He was the only chiropractic college president of his era to secure a teaching credential, and held three health-care degrees in his lifetime, in chiropractic, osteopathy and naturopathy. He also served at the forefront in securing the acceptance and eventual licensure of chiropractic in California.

In the course of his research, Dr. Smith also discovered that Dr. Cale's gravesite, in Inglewood Park Cemetery in Los Angeles, was unmarked. Six years ago, he approached SCUHS and its Alumni Association to see if the university would be interested in placing a marker at Dr. Cale's final resting place. After talking to descendants of the Cale family and finding no objections, the alumni association voted unanimously to pay for a memorial headstone.

Recently, Drs. Smith, Reed Phillips (SCUHS president), Fred Lerner (alumni association president), and several other university administrators visited the grave site, unveiled the marker and posthumously recognized the achievements of Dr. Cale. Dr. Phillips acknowledged that the LACC founder's legacy remains at the university today, with staff and alumni working together to continue the promotion and legitimacy of chiropractic.

Dr. Cale's headstone is inscribed with these words: "Dr. Charles Cale, 1870-1938, Educator-Healer-Advocate, Founder - Los Angeles College of Chiropractic."
